Chandler Resigns From State's National Democratic Committee

United Press International
By TED SWIFT
VERSAILES, Ky. (UPI) — Former Gov. A. B. Happy Chandler is a pretty unhappy man today about the elimination of "big good friend Robert Kennedy" as a possible vice presidential nominee. He said he got so mad about it Friday he resigned from the state's delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

President Lyndon Johnson committed a "gregarious error" Wednesday when he eliminated the attorney general and others, said Chandler. And he says the President is in "deep trouble" and may not be able to carry Kentucky in the November elections.

In a letter critical of both Johnson and Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, Chandler resigned. He told Breathitt, delegation chairman, that he can assign his Chandler's half vote to anyone he chooses. And he accuses Breathitt of making the state's 84-man delegation impotent.

At the recent state Democratic convention unit rule was invoked on the delegates. They have been instructed to go for Johnson and whoever he chooses as his running mate with Kentucky's 34 votes. Chandler said this action was all according to the governor's wishes.

"Now I ask you, what's the use of shipping 84 delegates up to Atlantic City?" said Chandler. "We might as well just send a post card or a carrier pigeon. I don't mind being instructed for Johnson, but it's something else when you agree to vote for some unknown person, or someone Johnson chooses for his running mate."

Breathitt, who beat Chandler in last year's Democratic gubernatorial primary, contends it has been the prevailing rule in both parties to permit the presidential nominees to choose his running mate.

"Well, I don't know of any such rule," said Chandler. "And I've been to a lot more political conventions than be, Breathitt, has."

Chandler, 66, who served two terms as governor and may seek a third, called "ridiculous" Breathitt's suggestion that he or other supporters of Kennedy might prevail on the President to change his mind about the attorney general.

"Why should Johnson change his mind?" he asked. "He knows darn well the delegation has already been instructed to support his choice."

The former governor said actions by both Johnson and Breathitt have been arbitrary and that neither man had the right to commit them. He said that they've reduced democratic processes to rubber stamp approval of predetermined candidates and policies.

Post 45 Group Completes Trip To Jamboree And World's Fair

By CLEO SYKES
Post 45 arrived in Murray Thursday night after completing a 2,000 mile trip through eleven states and the District of Columbia. They were gone twelve days and although they enjoyed the trip very much they were glad to be home.

The last day in Washington was spent visiting the White House on a tour arranged by Congressman Stubbins. Following this they sat in on a session of the House in Action. They also visited the Supreme Court Building and the Library of Congress. They were also treated to a ride on the Subway from the Senate Building to the Capitol Building.

They started home Wednesday morning. They came by Jamestown and Appomattox and spent the night at Marion, Va. Thursday morning they came through the Great Smoky Mountains and after spending about four hours there on their way home.

Since the National theme of the Boy Scouts of America this year is "Our American Heritage" Post 45 has completed a very good education in it.

Beginning with the First permanent settlement of the United States which was at Jamestown. Also here the first Burgess was held on July 20, 1819 which was the beginning of the Representative type of Government we have now.

Then through Historical Valley Forge where Gen. Washington spent the miserable winter of 1777-78. Independence Hall where those famous documents as the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and

I would like to take this opportunity to tell the people of Murray that they have just reason to be proud of the group of boys who made this trip. They were good examples of the type of youth we have in Murray. They were as well behaved and neat group of boys as you would find anywhere. They were courteous to all they met. This was the most enjoyable trip I have ever made and they are largely responsible for it.

Also on behalf of the boys in Explorer Post 45 I would like to thank the many people who made this trip possible. Most of the money needed to make this trip was earned by the boys and this would not have been possible without the many people who patronized us at the fair the last two years and our pancake breakfast last winter.

We would also like to thank Maurice Humphreys who took the time to make the trip with us.

Star Jim Reeves Feared Dead

By JACK WALS
United Press International
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Around 300 policemen, rescue crews and volunteers searched a wooded hillside in a suburb today for a missing private plane feared piloted by western music star "Gentleman Jim" Reeves.

Reeves, a former member of the tragedy-plagues Grand Ole Opry entertainment group, and his pilot, Dean Manuel, were believed overdue on a flight to Nashville from Batesville, Ark.

A light plane disappeared from the radar screen at Berry Field airport during a thunderstorm Friday afternoon while flying over a hill known as "Old Baldy" in the Brentwood residential area. Residents reported hearing a small plane at about the same time.

Stars John Search and western music performers, including Eddie Arnold, trekked over the area through the night, without finding a trace of a plane.

Ray-Baker, a spokesman at the Reeves home, quoted Mrs. Reeves as saying her husband had been on a business trip to Arkansas and had not returned home Friday afternoon as expected.

Reeves joined the Grand Ole Opry in 1955, but his contract expired last year.

His hit records include, "Am I Losing You," "The Little Things," "Partners," and others. He received a gold record in 1960 for his recording of "He'll Have To Go," rated by Billboard magazine as the No. 1 song in the country and western music field for that year.

The pain made her forget her tiny friend who was locked in the chest.

Mrs. Burnham did not realize the other child was in the chest until her mother came looking for her. They found the little girl suffocated inside.

Photos Praised By Officials As Better Than Any Other Ones

David Gowans Appearing In Indiana Opera

By DOUGLAS DILTZ
PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Pockets of treacherous tiny craters on the surface of the moon's "sea of clouds" revealed in the spectacularly successful Ranger 7 lunar probe — today set space scientists looking for more desirable sites for a possible moon landing.

Scientists making a preliminary review of the 4,316 frames of film returned by the Ranger before it crashed on the moon's surface Friday morning were even more emphatic Friday night in their praise of the operation.

Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper, a member of the "Ranger team" from the University of Arizona's lunar and planetary laboratories, called the photos "extraordinary" and claimed they were 1,000 times better than anything available previously.

Though they ended fears that the lunar surface would be coated with layers of dust that would impede a landing, the photographs posed a new problem by revealing the "secondary" craters, some of which were as small as three feet across and one-half foot deep.

"Craters Are 'Poison'"
Dr. Kuiper said the craters, apparently formed by particles spewing from the larger or "primary" craters, would be "poison" to space vehicles.

"We found a remarkable cluster of these very small craters," he said. "They have dangerous rounded crests into which a whole spacecraft might slip. It's a badly battered region that should be avoided like poison."

While some areas of the region still seemed suitable for landing, scientists indicated they would attempt to find more suitable terrain with future studies, including one of the 100-mile-wide crater Copernicus, the moon's largest.

The United States has designed space vehicles that could land astronauts on a hard lava surface as scientists said, is shown by Ranger's 7 pictures to exist on the moon.

Another scientist, Dr. Eugene Shoemaker of the U. S. Geological Survey at Flagstaff, Ariz., revealed a "significant mystery" that turned up in the photos.

"Pictures Look Smooth"
During the transmission, he said, the pictures began looking smooth, but the reason could not be traced to lack of focus or other transmission problems.

"This is very significant, but as yet we don't know what it means," he said.

Both the mysteries and problems of the flight remained observed by the daze of the space achievement itself.

Jeri's sister, Miss Jackie Washer, her two brothers, Jamie Don and Tony Washer, and her uncle, Clifton Cochran, were in Memphis the day of the operation.

MOON TARGET—Jet propulsion expert Dr. William H. Pickering points to a spot on the map of the Moon in Pasadena, Calif., where the Ranger 7 was aimed, with a crash time of 5:45 a.m. EST July 31. Behind him is a Ranger 7 model. Ranger 7 was set to televise back some 4,000 closeup pictures before ending its 228,600-mile journey.

Big Sherman Puckett Is A Big Surprise

By United Press International

Training camps often produce big surprises, but none have come from a bigger source than the New York Jets' 266-pound offensive tackle, Sherman Puckett.

Puckett, who has trimmed down from his usual 300-pound weight, left Jets' Coach Webb Ewbank blinking at his stop-watch Tuesday when he dashed through a 40-yard spring in 5.2 seconds.

The time couldn't match the 4.8 clocking turned in by two rookies, halfback Rudy Johnson of Nebraska and split end Bill Rademacher of Northern Michigan, but it did prove the veteran Puckett to be one of the fastest interior linemen in the American Football League.

much to Ewbank's surprise and delight.

A 20-minute live scrimmage by the Oakland Raiders produced injuries to three key players. Clemon Daniels, the AFL's most valuable player last season, suffered a bruise on his right shoulder, Archie Matsos, linebacker and defensive captain, pulled a thigh muscle and end Jan Barrett suffered a pulled right leg muscle.

Winning Less Than Half Time

Still Doesn't Make Al Dark

Happy; Pitching Is Down

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD

UPI Sports Writer

Even when the winning margin they needed, Ruben Amaro doubled home a run in the seventh and Clay Dalrymple singled in two runs after a bases-loaded walk in the eighth.

The Cardinals surrendered five unearned runs in the second inning to end their six-game victory streak.

Leo Cardenas, Don Pavletich, Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson each collected two hits for the Reds.

Winning pitcher John H. Johnson was singled in a run. The win lifted the Reds back into third place, 4 1/2 games behind Philadelphia.

Torre, Menke Homer

Joe Torre and Denis Menke each contributed a home run and a triple and Hank Aaron chipped in with a three-run homer in the Braves romp over the Cubs. Right-hander Bob Sadowski, who had not started since June 22, went the distance allowing six hits for the Braves, who have won their last five out of six.

Bob Buhl 12-7 was the loser.

The Mets used two American League castoffs, Frank Lary and Jack Fisher, to beat two no-hit hurlers, Don Larsen and Ken Johnson, in their double header with the Coats. Lary 2-3 pitched no-hit ball for 5 2/3 innings and settled for a two-hitter and his first National League shutout. Ed Kranepool socked a two-run homer for the Mets in the ninth.

Nearly Blew Lead

Starter Bob Bolin, a bullpen refugee, was lifted after 2 1/3 innings and five hits and two runs. He was followed in order by winner Bob Shaw. Gaylord Perry, who almost blew a six-run lead in the ninth inning, and Billy O'Dell.

Fortunately for the Giants, the Pirates were in a generous mood, kicking in six errors good for two unearned runs. Willie Mays collected three singles and Del Crandall singled twice to produce two runs for the Giants.

The victory ended a Pirate winning streak at four and kept the second-place Giants a game and a half behind the league leading Philadelphia Phillies.

Philadelphia trounced Los Angeles 6-1. Cincinnati edged St. Louis 7-6. Milwaukee clobbered Chicago 13-3 and New York swept a doubleheader from Houston 3-0 and 6-2 in other National League action.

AL Action

In the American League, Minnesota upset New York 4-3. Baltimore split with Kansas City, winning 6-1 then losing 7-6. Chicago blanked Washington 6-0. Cleveland swept two from Detroit 12-3 and 4-2, and Boston edged Los Angeles 4-3.

Joe Mauer pitched a brilliant six innings for the Dodgers, allowing only three hits and retiring 16 Phillies in a row at one point. But one of the hits was a two-run homer by Johnny Callison in the first inning which gave Phillies starter

Harmon Killebrew, Pursuing Record Of Ruth, Maris, Also Crashes AL Top Ten Batters List

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD

UPI Sports Writer

When Sam Mele ticks off the woes of his slumping Minnesota Twins, you won't hear the name Harmon Killebrew.

Killebrew not only is hot in pursuit of the Babe Ruth-Roger Maris home run mark, but for the first time in years Killebrew has crashed the American League's top 10 batters list.

The barrel-chested slugger has a lifetime major league batting mark of .268, and has never been regarded as a high average hitter. But today he ranked 10th among the AL hitters with a .265 average. In the Twins last 11 games, Killebrew has batted his average 16 points with 17 hits in 41 at bats.

The 28-year-old outfielder personally ended the "Twins' slump" sharp of 12 losses in 14 games when he belted his 27th home run with Ruth Rollins on base, with two out in the ninth inning Friday night to beat the New York Yankees 4-3.

Ahead Of Pace

The home run put Killebrew six games ahead of Babe Ruth's 1927 pace, but 2 games behind Roger Maris' record-setting 61 clip when Maris hit 61.

Killebrew's drive came off starter

VERSATILE INK

FORT MADISON, Ia. (UPI) — Some strange uses for fountain pen ink come to light in mail reaching Shafter, Pa., research chemists here. Housewives praise blue ink as a laundry blueing and as a dye for furniture fabrics, blouses and hats.

A Midwest mortician says red ink makes an excellent cosmetic. Any color writing fluid is helpful in treating burns and poison ivy irritation because of the tannic acid content, reports here. But the pen company continues to recommend its product for writing only.

Struck Out 14

Pizarro struck out 14 while his White Sox teammates raked four Washington pitchers for 12 hits, including Ron Hansen's 12th homer. Pizarro was in trouble only once — in the second when the Senators put runners on second and third with none out. He struck out the side to end the threat.

Bel pitched near perfect ball in relief of Jack Kralick in the opener as Cleveland collected 13 hits, including solo homers by Bob Chance and Leon Wagner. Bel retired 18 batters in a row, striking out four.

Pete Ramos won the second game with an eight-hitter. He yielded solo blasts to Norm Cash and Gates Brown.

Chance drove in three of Cleveland's four runs without a hit, plating two on infield outs and a sacrifice fly. A four-run scored on a wild pitch by starter and loser Joe Sparma.

Monbouquette shut out the Angels until L.A. Angeles scored twice in the sixth and added another in the seventh on Bobby Knops' homer. Dick Radatz took over for Monbouquette in the eighth and picked up his 18th save. Eddie Bressoud drove in three Boston runs.

WESTBROOK, Maine — Bill Toomey, former Stanford University star, amassed 3,887 points to win the national AAU pentathlon championship.

OCEANPORT, N. J. — Knightly Manner won the 19th running of the choice stakes for three year olds at Monmouth Park.

CHICAGO — Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La., beat Patti Shook 4 and 3 to win the 64th women's Western Amateur golf tournament.

Sunday

HAVERFORD, Pa. — Dennis Rajston of Bakersfield, Calif., beat Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., 6-1, 7-5, 6-3, to win the 69th annual Pennsylvania Lawn tennis championship.

Your Telephone Manager

Next month someone else will be writing in this space.

June, Rickey, Mike and I will be moving to Paducah in the near future where I will begin serving as Manager.

Since this will be my last Telephone Talk with you I want to use this space to express our appreciation for all the courtesies shown us since we have lived among you. We feel that our lives have been enriched by having been associated with so many truly wonderful people. We regret there are so many whom we have not become personally acquainted.

Especially do I wish to thank the City and County government officials, the press and radio station, the administrators of Murray State College and all the employees of Southern Bell in Murray. Without your cooperation and understanding my stay in Murray could have been something less than the wonderful, satisfying experience it has been.

There have been problems and moments of frustration, but I have tried, to the best of my ability, to serve you honestly and efficiently and to deal with all without favoritism or discrimination.

We know that the people of Murray will welcome my successor and his family with the same warm and genuine friendliness that we received and soon they will believe, as we do, there is no finer place to live.

We will miss Murray and trust that Murray will remember us.

Hootenanny Leads Revival Of Singing

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (AP) — The popularity of hootenanny and folk music is a forerunner of another music revival—gospel singing, says a woman who calls herself a "Pied Piper of gospel music."

Bette Stalneck, her husband Ed, and their accompanist, David Tyson, are giving New York World's Fair visitors daily tastes of this type of singing at the Protestant and Orthodox Pavilion.

They're also showing how to beat any New York housing shortage. The Memphis, Tenn., couple live on a 75-foot houseboat, they brought up from Boca Raton, Fla., on the inter-coastal waterway, giving free concerts from it at city fairs along the way. Now the craft, dubbed "The Gospel Ship," is tied up at the Fair's Marina.

Travel Many Miles

"Hootenanny and folk are leading up to gospel," said Mrs. Stalneck, who with her husband and other musicians have spent the last three years touring the country singing it. Last year, she said, they traveled 80,000 miles by plane and car to give concerts before church and civic groups and at religious and other conventions.

They're at the fair until its closing Oct. 18. And as an indication of gospel singing's popularity, she said they've booked in 38 states in the 1965 concert year.

"I just hope," said Mrs. Stalneck, "that national television won't be ashamed to present religious music." The Stalnecks already are already featured in a "Songs of Faith" television series sold to stations throughout the South. Their recordings of sacred music are among the top selling ones in the country.

Gospel music, Mrs. Stalneck explained, is "music that tells of the love of God. Gospel means good news." She said that from her repertoire of 365 songs sung from memory, she universal favorites are "His Eye Is on the Sparrow," "Peace in the Valley," "Roll, Jordan Roll," and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

Always A Vocalist

Mrs. Stalneck, a tall handsome blonde of 34, was born in Ripley, Tenn., some 50 miles north of Memphis and can't remember when she wasn't vocalizing.

"I used to end my prayers at night with 'and please make me a great singer,'" she said.

Mrs. Stalneck, a contralto, averages 15 appearances a day at the pavilion, each lasting about 10 minutes. "I just come out with a mike and with David at the organ," she said, "and start singing. It doesn't take long for a crowd to gather. I call myself the Pied Piper of gospel music."

Hundreds Find New Faith At Graham Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Hundreds of inquirers from all over the world already have responded to a filmed invitation of Billy Graham and committed themselves to Christ during visits to the famed evangelist's Pavilion at the 1964-65 New York World's Fair, says Dan Platt, director of the Pavilion.

Highlight of the presentation at the striking, octagonally shaped Pavilion is the showing in the 400-seat, air conditioned theatre of a special 28-minute color film, "Man in the Fifth Dimension," narrated by Graham, which details the story of man from the Creation. At the conclusion of the film, which is simultaneously translated into seven languages, Graham invites members of the audience to find peace through faith in Christ.

Those responding to his invitation meet with specially trained counselors of the same sex and age in a counseling room, Platt said. After the inquirer explains his spiritual needs, his counselor then counsels him, using appropriate passages from the Bible. He also helps with the first of a series of Bible lessons.

Information about each inquirer is sent to his minister, who undertakes a follow-up program, designed to encourage spiritual growth. The clergyman encourages regular church attendance, and appoints a mature Christian of the same age to work with the inquirer.

PEAT PROJECT

MOSCOW (AP) — About 400 scientists at Moscow's Peat Institute are working on new ways to use the 14 million tons of peat cut from bogs and burned in Soviet powerhouses every year.

Europeans have used peat for centuries and, as a reservoir of yesterday's organic matter, peat bogs are a present-day source of energy and raw material.

SAFE AND SECURE

How confidently he sleeps. Mother and Daddy are in the next room. Teddy Bear is right beside him.

We, also, desire a feeling of confident security. We want to do good and live with honor in this life, free of the fear of falling into sin. God wants this for us, too. And He sees and knows how hard we try.

In the New Testament, Jude writes, "God is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of His glory with exceeding joy."

Pledge yourself to Him and attend church this week.

Table It

Doors, Barrels, Ingenuity
Are Turned Into Tables

By JOHN O'SULLIVAN

There's nothing nicer than the satisfaction of painting with pride to a home furnishing that's been admired and admitting without modesty, "I made it myself."

Most such do-it-yourself projects are tough to tackle, but table-making isn't in this category. A table is easily put together.

Here's an idea. In fact, you don't always have to assemble one. Sometimes you can take full credit for a re-designing job.

A friend of mine, for example, found a marvelous round dining table with a five-foot diameter in a second-hand shop. What did she do with it?

She refinished the somewhat marred top, then removed the base and added a new one that reduced the table to cocktail height.

Admired by everyone, she "gilded the lily" with the envy and admiration of all her friends. It serves snacks beautifully and makes a nifty catchall for unread magazines and books.

If you want to create from scratch, as it were, you might begin with a door. It makes a marvelous table top.

Fill in Panels
If it's a paneled door, the panels can be decoratively filled-in to create a design.

Stained glass, for example, might be used. Its jewel tones

ROLL OUT the barrel and make a gay rumpus room table. Synthetic gloves protect hands as she stencils on design.

providing a colorful accent for the room's scheme. Panels of colored glass can sometimes be picked up in an antique shop. An old house that's being demolished offers another possible source. Keep your eyes on the lookout. Mosaic tiles, available in hobby stores, can fill in door panels both decoratively and colorfully.

One gal we know pasted matchbook covers she'd collected in the panels, then covered them with a protective pane of glass.

Legs for your "door" table can be purchased from a hardware store.

Barrel Table
An empty wooden barrel or keg makes a wonderful base for a gay table to use in a rumpus room or den. Add a circle of wood for the top and your table is made.

You'll want to paint it, of course, and perhaps decor it with stencil designs — brighter, the better.

Protect Hands
Such projects are fun but, for beauty's sake, make sure you protect your hands when you're refinishing, painting or sanding by wearing liquid-proof household gloves from start to finish.

One type of glove, made with neoprene, a synthetic rubber that resists chemicals, oils, acids and solvents, has a non-slip finish on the finger and palm area. It's an especially good glove to wear when refinishing furniture.

Another type of glove, made of sheer material, allows maximum hand dexterity so that fingers are nimble for painting jobs.

Both glove styles have long cuffs for extra forearm protection.

THIS STRIKING coffee table was once an ordinary paneled door. It was cut down to proper size, sanded and stained. Mosaic tiles were used to colorfully fill in the door panel.

Deliciously Nutritious

By JOHN O'SULLIVAN

IT'S NUTRITIOUS but is it delicious? If the subject of the question is wheat germ, the answer is an emphatic Yes!

It Adds Much
The heart of the wheat, rich in many nutritive essentials, especially the B vitamins, adds a great deal more to both of the desserts given here.

It adds, for example, a nutty goodness and a tasty crunchiness that make today's pie and shortcake recipes exceptionally good.

1 pt. vanilla ice cream melted and mixture is bubbly. Stir in wheat germ. Cool slightly. Sprinkle over peaches. Chill.

Top with vanilla ice cream. Serves 6 to 8.

PEACH-RASPBERRY WHEAT GERM SHORTCAKE

2 c. prepared biscuit mix
¼ c. wheat germ
¼ c. sugar
1 c. milk
½ c. melted butter or margarine
1 c. sweetened red raspberries, fresh or defrosted frozen
2 c. sweetened sliced peaches, fresh or defrosted frozen
Whipped cream or whipped dessert topping

Combine biscuit mix, wheat germ, sugar, milk and butter. Stir to make soft dough. Spread an equal amount of dough evenly over bottoms of 2 greased 8-in. layer pans. Bake in hot oven, 400°F., until slightly browned, about 15 min.

Remove from pans. Cool slightly. Place 1 layer on serving plate. Spoon ½ of fruit and juice over shortcake; top with second layer and spoon remaining fruit and juice over it. Garnish or serve with whipped cream or topping. Serves 4.

AN APPETIZING wheat germ topping makes this delightful peach pie extra delicious and extra nutritious as well.

Reception Held In Compliment To Mr. And Mrs. McCoy

Chattanooga — Members of the Chattanooga Educational Association honored the school superintendent and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. McCoy, at a reception on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Caldwell, Valley Street. Mrs. McCoy is the former Verda Slaughter of Murray.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell greeted guests at the door assisted by Miss Wilma Eastham. The foyer of the Caldwell home was decorated with an arrangement of summer flowers in an urn placed in front of a mirror.

Mr. and Mrs. McCoy and Mrs. John W. Burns, president of the C.E.A., formed the receiving line. The picture window in the Caldwell's living room was decorated with a brass container filled with red zinnias to match an antique cranberry lamp on an antique table.

The grand piano held a luscious filled with summer garden flowers. Guests were invited into the dining room for refreshments. The tea table was covered with white grass linen embroidered cloth. The centerpiece was a beaded silver container filled with roses, snapdragons, phlox and pinks in shades of lavender. Silver holders with lighted lavender tapers flanked the arrangement.

Miss June Williamson presided at the punch bowl. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Bill Ross and Miss Helen Weaver.

The veranda in the back of the house and the garden accented with flood lights was a favorite spot for more than 50 guests who called during the evening.

Members of the planning committee were Mrs. Burns, Miss Williamson, Miss Weaver, Mrs. Ross, Miss Eastham, Mrs. William Grace, Miss Juanita Clark and Mrs. Caldwell.

Dear Abby

Maybe It's Occupational Hazard!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: About a year ago, I went to a hospital and stayed there for six weeks. Last week I had to go back to the same hospital for a little corrective surgery, and what do you think the head nurse greeted me with? "Oh, no, not YOU again. Mrs. So-and-So! When the nurses hear you're back they'll shoot themselves!" Then she laughed. I failed to see anything funny in her remark. When I saw my doctor in her remark, too. Then he patted me on the shoulder and said, "Oh, don't pay any attention to her. She's a little screwy." Why would a hospital me going through her things. Abby, I would never think of doing such a thing. Last time I was there she said I tried to remove the adhesive tape and seal it back, my fingerprints would be on the tape and I'd never get away with it. This hurt me. Do you think there is something wrong with her? I'm afraid if I tell my parents they won't let me sit for her any more, and I need the money. What should I do?

NERVOUS GIRL
DEAR NERVOUS: Yes, I think there is definitely something wrong with her. Tell your parents, and abide by their decision.

DEAR ABBY: I have been employed in this office only a short time, but it is an ideal place to work and I would like to remain here. I am not the kind of person who indulges in gossip. But the telephone operator here told me that the boss, a family man, is carrying on an affair with a woman who calls him at the office and uses a phony name. The telephone operator listens in on all his calls, so she is not guessing. The boss is a fine man, and seems so proud of his family that it is hard to believe that he is leading a double life. I am afraid his wife will find out about it and their home will be broken up. Should I tell the boss what I know so he can be more careful?

NEW GIRL
DEAR NEW: Mind your own business, and tell the telephone operator that if she knows what is good for her, she should mind hers. If the boss chooses to skate on thin ice, let him take his chances.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CANT SLEEP" IN TROUBLE: Tell your husband what's on your mind and give him a fair chance to defend himself. You could be wrong.

Problems? Write to ABBY, Box 60700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 60700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Tots Vs. Machine In Learning Test

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The newest group of "researchers" at the Westinghouse Electric laboratories are children, ranging from three to eight years of age.

The children are helping to test a new learning machine called SLATE — for simulated learning by automated typewriter environment.

The machine, a sophisticated "talking typewriter," has shown remarkable ability to teach young children to read and type.

SLATE has three main systems — an electric typewriter operated by the student; a teacher-supervised control system overseeing the typewriter's functions; and a voice storage and playback system for pronouncing letters and words typed on the keyboard.

The machine was designed and built by Westinghouse physicists after a Yale University study indicated that such a machine teaches language skills to pre-school children better than conventional methods.

DON'T SCRATCH
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has some advice for outdoorsmen — resist the urge to scratch the irritating bites of chiggers, also called red bugs.

The pin-point size insects probably don't carry disease themselves, the agency warned, but their bites demand scratching which often causes secondary infections in the form of sores and boils. The department recommended repellent products applied to the skin to keep chiggers away.

SAUCY
NEW YORK (UPI) — It will take about $14 million worth of sauce to embellish the best barbecue efforts of backyard chefs this summer, according to B. Meier & Son, purveyors of food and equipment for outdoor cooking.

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 427 Rienzi was kept on the move as continuously in June 1864 as in May. Rienzi was the horse of tremendous strength and stride which Philip H. Sheridan acquired near Rienzi, Miss., in 1862. That was soon after the five-foot-five "black Irishman" from New York, managed to get out of the Quartermaster Corps into a cavalry command in Grant's army in the Mississippi Valley. It is certain Rienzi, which was about three years old when Sheridan got him, stood about 17 hands high because the stuffed skin and skeleton can be seen in the military museum at Governor's Island, New York.

Following the attempted raid on Richmond in May in which Rebel "Jeb" Stuart was defeated and mortally wounded at Yellow Tavern, Sheridan himself met reverse from Wade Hampton and Fitzhugh Lee near Trevilian Station in the beginning of June (as told in No. 426). But he withdrew without further substantial loss via battle-torn Spotsylvania and Bowling Green to rejoin Grant, whose own costly operation against Lee had forced a change in tactics.

Grant's faith in Sheridan was not shaken. At Grant's insistence, Sheridan was given command of the Middle Military Division. This enabled Sheridan to prove himself an able general in a brilliant Shenandoah Valley campaign later in 1864.

Scouts Go Picnicking They Know The Tricks Of Smart Dining Out

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN
PLANNING a picnic? The best plan of all is to take along a Girl Scout and let her manage the outing. She'll carry it off with honors because good Scouts everywhere are up on the how-tos of eating out. It's all in their handbook.

Did you, for example, know that the best way to pack sandwiches is to stand them on edge?

They're Not Soggy
It's a fact, and one that makes sense. Stand them on edge and the filling won't make the bread soggy. If anything drips, it'll drip down—not through the bread!

Scouts are onto all sorts of tricks.
A bandanna, for example, is a very handy thing to have on a picnic. It can be used as a colorful carry-all for the lunch itself. Later, it can serve as a place mat, an apron or even a pot holder.

Makes Her Own
No Scout worthy of a merit badge needs a fancy outdoor grill! She knows how to make a cook-out stove using an empty king-size No. 10 can. Here's how:

The open end of the can sits on the ground. Cut a door from the bottom that's three inches high. Bend back the tin inside the can. Punch two of three small holes high on the side of the can opposite the door.

Make a small fire of twigs and set your "stove" over it, using the top of the can to cook on.

Waterproofing Idea
It is a well-known fact that matches sometimes get wet, particularly if they're the only ones you have along. But this isn't a problem if you've waterproofed them, Girl Scout style.

Fruitful Fact
Instead of loading themselves down with fresh fruit, they pack dried fruit. Why? Because a pound of dried fruit is equivalent to 6 pounds of apples and weighs 5 pounds less!

Like most girls, they're fond of chocolate, but if planning to snack up on this treat,

AN EMPTY No. 10 tin can may be turned into a stove and used like the most deluxe barbecue grill for a tasty cookout.

GOOD SCOUTS know you can waterproof matches by dipping in colorless nail polish. Use sandpaper to ignite them.

To do this, dip the heads of wooden matches in colorless nail polish, pack them in a tin box and incense a small piece of sandpaper to ignite them when needed.

Scouts even have some super menu suggestions.

Pets, Like People Need Pampering In Summer Heat

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pets, like people, need to beat the summer heat.

And it's up to their owners to help them. Tips on summer care for pets comes from the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (ASPCA). Included are those for cats, dogs, fish, turtles and birds.

Col. Edmond M. Rowan, director of ASPCA's humane work division, said that dogs, for example, should have less food in hot weather. For cats, less milk, and for canaries and parakeets, no oats or cod liver oil in their diets. For all, plenty of fresh water. Rowan said the reasoning for this is the same as for humans. Animals, too, fare better when they eat less. He recommends swimming for dogs. But if a river or pool is not available, then a sponge bath or hose spray helps on extremely hot days.

He said vigorous combing and brushing of a dog will get rid of loose fur shed during summer months. Daily grooming, with inspection for ticks, fleas and other parasites should be a habit.

Cats too need their coats brushed frequently with parasite inspection a must.

If the family pet goes along on a motor trip, never leave it in a parked car with all windows closed. Two windows can be left open a couple of inches.

For both cats and dogs, peace and quiet are good rules, said Rowan. Sleeping in cool, ventilated rooms is as necessary for pets as for humans.

For fish and turtles, replace the glass cover of the home aquarium with a plastic screen to increase evaporation, a cooling process. If the tank has an artificial aerator, increase the air bubble.

Canaries and parakeets like a cool bath in hot weather. But keep birds from drafts, their greatest health hazard, said Rowan.

CERAMICS COMEBACK
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — One of this world's oldest art forms has enjoyed a spectacular space-age rebirth, according to Honeywell Inc. Ceramics, the same material used for ashtrays and pottery, now is used for such things as precision gyrosopes and thermoelectric generators in missiles and spaceships.
